

Ellie

Chapter: 1

'The day that I was born'

On a cold and lonely day, in an old run-down barn, that was completely in the country parts of this old town; in the land of many hayfields in a barn, I slowly opened my eyes to see the world that was before me.

I come to realize that I was not alone. There were others all around me call dogs. What's a doggie? They all looked the same as me... yet what am I? Am- I one of these... doggies, the showed-o-ie things called people or boys or girls around me, some young some old yet what does that mean? I don't get it yet I was just born into this world- I will age and come to know it all as most do. If you read you will learn like I! All of us around what I, them, and they, recognize as my mother and dad, and also them as people, like the little boys and girls that pick me up to hold me, and I kiss them back. Oh, the night was so unkind cold and windy, but being with my siblings was divine, at this time, I didn't know what I would find, that would change in time.

Play is all I want to do it's something I just learned how to do. Like- rollover sniff a butt, lick your face, and run, or stay in on place, sit and NO- barking. Whatever that one is...? Oh, absolutely- playing its time to find all the entirely new things around me and them and us all, as met my brothers named Gus and Russ, and my two sisters named Jill and Lill. Millie, Tillie, Nillie, and Willie, all there looking out of the box with me at some point, at night, we see nothing but the barn glowing light, nothing but golden hay insight, by mom feel just right.

The boys and girls, now gone home leaving us alone to sleep something I learn how to do- as my eyes got heavy and I blacked out not meaning too, and now they have human families of their own, I learned that too, so maybe so do I. The barn is red, said Ed, and the door is brown, like the road going surly to the town, I learned today how to make a new sound. Grrrr!

I learned to chew too! I didn't have a clue; it was something all new. See the yellow moon, the sun something I learned yesterday will be coming up soon.

See the old wooden fence, over there and here, the green trees standing tall, do you see them all?

Do you see all the snow on the ground, something I learn today pawing around, digging for something to be found, what I am not sure, it's something I never- ever did before, what was it...?

I don't know?

Nevertheless, I want and need more, it's a must, as I look at Russ, doing the same, playing the little puppy game, in the snow and in the rain.

I gut bit and learned pain... isn't that a shame?
The thing in my life was changing so fast, oh was it not what you would call a blast.

I found out by overhearing them all say, that:
Gus lives with a boy who took him home on a school bus,
Russ all made a fuss, about Russ he left us to a little girl that took him far away on some touring train in the pouring down rain- in Spain. Do you know where that is, I don't do you? Do you have family photos in frames...? I do not but I wash I did, like this one taking off a girl and my brother sed.

Jill and Lill, unlike Bill, found a new home on a big hill in a house with a mouse. They say it something else... I wouldn't know.

Chapter: 2

'Leaving my Family'

It is common for puppies to leave their mother after the first five weeks of their life this is a said thing I learned. Something you should have figured out. I bark as a shout, don't you see, I am a puppy, which can talk to you, so you can see my life as I do. Do you have any clue?

I had no idea, impression, and inkling of what was in store for me. Do you? Nor did they... or me, at that time, I was only a week old, can you tell me how many days are in a week? They all went away different days- I- me myself and I, have learned them all- Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Can you say them all in order now too? Like- 1 +

1 = 2 and 2+2 = 4 what is four added on to that? It is 10, do you understand? I sure do, as of now, that is...

They all went bye- bye's- I was last, the days went by fast, and they last and last. Oh; by the way my name is Ellie, or so they call me. Okay I think, that means I am a girl...? What do you say? What is your name? I think I am right saying I am a girl like some of you. See me setting here hold on to this thought of me and what I maybe. This is the story of me and who I am. So far in this county land, I understand everything... do you?

Lest talk- oh about me, and what I have done over the last couple of years. What all have you done at the small, and young age five? So-o, I was with my original family, when suddenly this scary-looking person walked up to me. Old and smelly, reached down with his icy clammy hands to pick me up, I did like that or the way he was handling me.

Jake is a farmer as I said, he lives in a home next to us with Fred. He has a long white beard, and only two yellowing cracked and chipped buck front teeth. He sold me- don't you see that is wrong- like who is he?

Ah- OH!

This is not good- I pondered to myself... for not so long of a time. Um-hum did I for one, like that so before he could hold me more, I bit him. That is not nice to do so don't yet, he was not nice to me, and you have to give respect to get it so I have learned. I did not want some old farmer touching me.

Nor should he be touching anyone like that, if someone wants to touches' you like this run and tell someone. I ask...??? 'How would you like it if someone was picking you up by the back of the neck and slapping your butt or more'?

Good touch and bad touch, do you get that?

Do you see me? ABC- 123, you and me he-he! Besides the inside of my home all of them behind me. See my pink bow! And my licking kiss for you, my heart-shaped nose, wet too. My big flop-ie ears hanging as they do. My big green said puppy eyes are looking at you! Do you see my eyelashes, and whiskers also? I am yellow and brown and have a wagg-a-lie tail, see it going back and forth. As I pant for breath. Yes, I am sniffing for you!

Chapter: 3

'Old dirt road'

Okay, so now the man, do you see him? He put me into this wooden box, here, it was dark in there, and difficult to breathe, and see and even think really. For the reason that the box was small, black on the inside. Why?

Why- was it black and hard to see and breathe... do you know? I do...

I want to run... yet I can... I want to hide... yet I cannot... I want to yell... yet you don't understand my yelling. Farmer Jack, the man with the rake, put me into the back of an old green truck, where I was stuck, he said he wanted to be rid of me... don't you see, do you get what he was saying? No? I do... I have a clue, and it was not good, I feel you should feel this way too. What should I or you do?

Whom was he to do this! Do you know who he is? I had not done anything to him, for I could see, do you see what I did wrong to him?

All the same, I was in the back of this green truck, that is old from the 1950s do- you know when that was, I think I do? Do you? I want to say it 2012, or so now. Look back on all the years to get smart like me. Don't you see what I want you to be? He- he- be cute and smart- and have a big hart.

In the back of the bed, what could I do, I was stuck in a small wood box, going over a bumpy old dirt road? Bouncing around, in the back, with the lack of knowledge, by the time we stopped, it was early the next moving.

Bump- bump- hit- pot- whole... the box brown where are you taking me to the town? Well, I will be found? What are all these sounds, is there a thing I am missing all around? What do you think is happing can you tell me that? Hum...?

Slam!

The tall- gate on the truck went down, and into a cage, I went, at this new home, I was all alone, or so I thought... what do you think is going to happen next? WOW- Ellie, I said to that racket! After spending many hours in the crate, I could over here even more than before; like all the folks outside this bark and dusty old box. Some said out there that he or she was my new owner. OKAY...?

No on own me! I was thinking about this... as it was said, loudly- I might add.

Meeting them as I hopped out and about. Hey! I said or- Waooff! To you! She put me in the font of this big old place, where I sat looking out this big steamed window. It was frosty yet she gave me my old blankie back that was like being at home and make me feel as if I wanted to be back there, at that moment. There I said day in and day out, looking at all the people go by, and yes this is something

I could understand, was going on, I am not a dumb doggie, like some of you that don't get it or comprehend! What does comprehend mean? I know do you know?

Chapter: 4

'Pets' R us'

After spending many hours in the cage, the girl who is saying that she is my owners put me into this great big window at the front of their store. There I sat looking out and in at the people walking by me, at all and everything that caught my eye, with pink ribbons in her hair. Yet she just walked by... I wanted to see her again, do you think I well? I am not sure. This is when all these kids would take me into a room and play with me, yet I did want anyone but the girl with the ribbon in her hair. It's not fair to want someone, is it? I can see all the other animals, that the group I am classed in now, or so I learned.

It would have been even more fun if there wouldn't have been bars blocking me from meeting my new friends, where the kids were not in the shop. As the night went on there was not much to do, but hear the too

Andy, the big fat orange kitty cat Z-z-z-ing away snoring.
There bards sixteenth noting, as they sing out their songs.
The rabbits, doing whatever it is they do. Like- how was going to get any sleep at all?

All the people and all the sounds, and the stuff flying about, look out at the town, what can be found, out there when I am in here, I want to play not say in here, yet I have a fear of not see all them near me.

There are even these amusing things passing by me, all out there though; I did not know the name of as then, yet as of now, I do, and they're called cars, trucks, buses, and bikes. I want to ride, don't you? All these objects are flashing before me, and my wondering eyes. All I really know at the time was that they and were really shiny compared to the rest of the things I knew at the time, of birth till now. I sat in the window not always board, at what was going on, there was a- lot to see, some of them looking at me.

All if not all saying, that I look cute and happy, not one of the boy or girl- really wanted me. What's wrong with me? Do you know? I don't...

She had stopped to look at me outside the window, as I was looking up at her with my sad-looking eyes and floppy ears. She thought I was the cuties thing she had ever seen; I now know at that moment that she liked me.

Then again, her parents called out her name, 'Sammie, come on!' And she left me, and I thought I would never see her again. I see her every day now; at the window, I think she loves me- whatever that is... do you know to tell me?

Chapter: 5

'Meeting new Friends'

Most days consist of me sitting in the window with my blank-ie. When I got, tired I eat, when I need to sleep I did, then I would look back into the store some more, looking for her. Hoping she would come and see me, some more, and play like always. I could see all the different things that were behind me to, like before... in the store as they call it. Plus, now- so do I... Things like Andy the fat cat eating and eating- way too much... is that a bad thing to do? I think so... the bards are singing again, yet this time about a song of a friend leaving, them in a way that is really said, it's the first time I heard about passing too. Do you understand that? Blue- Jay she passed away, yet it will be okay, or so the others say, see here some other day. Do you see the cashier with her red hair stand over there, wanting to speak, and give us a way for money to customers? What is money? Like- what does it do? I know... do you all?

Chapter: 6

'Pink Ribbons'

I turned around to see, I could hear this tap on the window glass. As she was slightly going passed, I looked up and there she was, looking down at me and me up. I knew it was not the first time, yet the feeling was like the first time; that I laid eyes on her.

She is now looking in at me, thought the glass, I think she is the most beautiful little girl, which I have ever seen in my life before, certainly, it was her. The girl with the pink ribbon or so she called them... to me one day at paly. Her mom and dad looking at her and I were playing, with the toys and her petting me, I was licking her. After spending many more days there, with all my time given to observing all the boys and girls, there was something just so unique about her only, something I cannot explain, can you?

There she is with her pink ribbons in her hair, and her blue eyes shining bright, which would stare at me sweetly. Do you see her looking at me outside the window? From that very moment, I knew that she was cherishing me. However, her parents called out her name: 'Sammie come on home now!' Sammie- um- that must be her name- the name I just learned. Can you say, Sammie? Do you remember my name and said it out loud now too?

Yet same she left me again; I was said... how would you feel? I thought I would never- ever see her again. In the cold and lonely wind, I sat think of her and maybe getting a home, owner, and best friend. Like before I would look up at her, with my sad- looing eyes and floppy ears, moving for her to see. I was thinking

'Take me home with you.' I knew she was falling for me thought- like as if I was the most adorable puppy she had ever seen, I just feel that like I can do, do you know how to feel?

Chapter: 7

'Journeys'

In the cold and lonely window, I sat looking for her to come back my way, to say hey, and to play with me, do you see, I want her to stay with me. The next day after sleeping in the window this man strolled into the store, I'm not sure if I saw him before, he said I want that puppy that's in the window, but I didn't want to go with him, I wanted to be with the girl that what was here the day before, but there was not a thing I could do; and in the box I went again, but this time the box was wrapped with paper, as the man was walking home with me in the box, he said that I was going to be the perfect gift for his little girl. We are now at my new home but I can't see it because I'm in a box, he said you are going to like it here, and under the tree, I went.

The next day after sleeping in the chilly cold window, like before seeing all the people going by outside until it was dusk outside.

A man strolled into the store I was in I could see him walking around outside past all the buildings of many colors, red, yellow, green, and even blue... do you see them all? I sure do, and yes, I can see colors how about you! I am sure that I have never- ever seen him before. He said- 'I want that puppy in the window!'

I was thinking OH- NO! Or (worfff to your ears.) can you show me where your ears are? Do you see mine; can you point to them? Do you see him? He is taller, and not bad looking, I think he looks like someone I know yet I am not sure, the one I think about is the little girl. No did I want to go with him! I wanted to stay here, and hopefully go home someday with her, you know who she was... do you remember? I wanted to go home with the girl, that was here the day before named- Sammie, but there was nothing I could do; and like before into the box I went once again.

However, this time the box is wrapped with paper. Do you see it the box in pink and purple? I can for I am inside it.

Do you see all the orange, red and green, blue and pink lights on the yellow house, blinking on and off all around?

As the man walked around with me, I overheard that his name was I think, Jack Beallie, so would that make me- Ellie Beallie...? He was walking home with me inside, he said that I was going to be the perfect gift for his young daughter. What is her name, I was saying yet he could not understand me?

I ask- Can you? Holing me in the crate, going down the long driveway he said- 'We are now at your new home.' I was thinking in my young little puppy mind, what is my new home going to be like... inside and out. Do you know? Can you see it?

Can you tell me, would you shout it all out for me? You are going to like it here he said, and under the tree, I went. Can you guess why? Do you get it or know what's going to happen next?

Chapter: 8

'Footsteps'

I can hear the sound of footsteps... can you?
Stomp- stomp- stomp. I hear footsteps that sound like they are coming downstairs. I hear the sound of a little girl... do you hear her?

'Open your gifts,' mom, dad, and the grandparents said, in a hast. She is ripping off the paper along with pulling on the bow, then off came the lid, and then, out I leaped.

It is Christmas morning and all I can hear are the sounds of footsteps, coming from the staircase, open your presents the girl heard, ripping the paper off, along with the lid, and there she was the girl from before that was looking at me in the window. I know that her name is Sammie, so I jumped up and licked her face because I was so happy. As well as her families were saying 'how to do you like your puppy?' I love her I'm going call her Ellie-Beallie.

Dad- I went to town to get her this little puppy they call Ellie- do you see her? I went to town because I felt Sammie was ready for the responsibility of taking care of a pet. Can you say- responsibility? Do you know what it means?

Sammie- I am a nine-year-old girl, which has always wanted a puppy, for my own.

Ellie- Christmas morning, someone has picked me up; and all I could hear was the sound of tearing of paper until the big flash of light, and her face was in sight, I was bouncing with all my might. Her face it was there, her hair, her eyes, and her hug, I knew it is the girl named Sammie. So-o I jumped up and licked her face for the reasons that I was so very happy. Don't you see me, all happy and doing this?

Mom- Do you love you knew puppy?

Sammie- Yes, yes, I do!

Mom- I see that you know she is Ellie!

Sammie- I love her so very, very much, can you see me hugging her a bunch.

Chapter: 9

'On the pond'

Later that day Sammie said, 'Let's go!' And experience the snow, walking down to the pond with Sammie's and her friend named Amie. Going outside in the winter for the first time, to leave our troubles behind, to going ice skating on the pond in the back yard, I found this to be really hard. I did not know what to do since I have never ice skating before, and after falling so many times, I just wanted to play in the yard, it was too hard. Do you see us out there, I would say hey, but my paws are going each and every way, what do you say about me trying this?

Then again one day all the ice and snow melted away, this was all new to me, at that time; I did not realize of know that there was any more out there than ice and snow, did you know... there was?

Do you know why or because? At this time, I didn't know Christmas was only a seasonal event, to me I thought we did this every day, but one day all the ice and snow melted away, and to me, I didn't know we could still play, in Sammie's bedroom. Oh! So, let me tell you about our house, from what I can see it is really nice, I have a big yard and lots of space to play with Sammie, I have the best thing that a dog could have or want.

I did not know if it was going to be safe to go outside now, like without all the snow on the ground and all around. I did not know all the things that could be found. I was wondering about all the sounds, and why- I was gaining pounds of weight. Do you see me getting fat? Am I getting that way?

Chapter: 10

'Colorful Spring'

Birds sing, the sounds of them ringing out in my ears, all the fears of them I don't know them, green grass, blue sky why up so high, white clouds, all the colors of the rainbow, can you name them all. (Red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, violet). You can only see a rainbow if the Sun is behind you and the rain in front. This was the first time that I had ever seen the different seasons. To me truthfully, I really never- ever knew that there was anything more than snow on the ground and all around me and she. Up till now, this was only the first year of my life at this time.

I want outside in the spring, and I could see these entirely new things all around me and her. Colorful things that I have never seen before. Like- the birds sing out for me, to hear them, wanting me to be there friend, time that we could spend before the day would come to end. The many flowers blooming in there many bright shades, tints, and hues.

Do you understand what that means... if not ask now? I can see all the tree with all those green blowing leaves, I hear them as the rattle in the gusts, like the bees buzzing by also saying hi! And all the other woodland creatures. Do you understand what I am saying here...? If not then ask.

As the spring went on, Sammie and I did more and more different things. We liked to walk in the woods as I said. Plus, also go swimming in the pond, and play with her friend. Like Amie, Jennie, Mandie, and Randie.

Now look spring has fully arrived. But yet some days we just stayed inside, not to hide, not going on rides, and things like that. We were in the home, not all along, and yet sometimes it's just she and I. The one place that I love the most is her bedroom; her room is pink and cozy.

My favorite place in her room, in her bed it makes me happy; don't you see? What makes you happy, go around the room and say the things that you love.

Me- I love to lie on her bed for it is so-o big and comfy!

Our home, from what I can see is really nice, I have an enormous -which means- big yard. There is so much space here you would not believe it, I can run and be free, yet I always want her next to me, do you see?

I have to say I am one very happy puppy! I would have to say the best thing about being me is...

To me, the best things about being a dog are filling-free, and having Sammie next to me. Knowing that she loves me, playing tug-of-war, and watching television while lying on the floor. And using my doggie door, knowing that no one will hurt me, having a great family, these are the many things I've learned to enjoy.

Do you see all of this, do you see, do you see...?

Chapter: 11

'Rainy Days'

On the rainy days, we could not go outside to play, so we stayed in our home, I would have to say I have a great life, for instance even when it's raining it is still fun to go summing. I love to go summing with Sammie and her friends, it is so much fun, I like to run and jump in the water and splash them. And after a long day at play, it is nice for us to go upstairs, and sleep in Sammie's bed to rest our weary heads.

The one lesson I learned... what have you learned so far with my story? Can you all list them? Can you name ten things on a sheet of paper, after the tells are over?

One-time Sammie was at school and I was in the yard, what to do, go out and find new things to do, or to play, and see what I could find, but doing this I let my home behind. I was in so much trouble. I hope when Sammie gets home, she doesn't get too mad. What caused me to leave the yard in the first place is that I saw this beautiful butterfly; I did know things could fly. As this unique little creature rushed by and before I knew it, I was in the woods and I wanted to cry. And this was not good!

What to do? Do you know what I should do?

How scary, this was scared I was never away from home, I knew I needed to get home, plus I was getting hungry, but how do I find my way back, every tree looked the same, but I was the one that was to blame, running away from home is not a fun game. Running through the grasses as the twigs and sticks were breaking under me, I was so said. Going through the woods get muddy wanted to be home with my buddy, it was getting dark I knew this could get ugly, and then finally...!

'Sammie looking for Ellie' I can here Sammie calling out my name, echoing through the trees. Trying to find me, herring her made me so very happy, but not sees her made me vary said.

Finally, there she was as we were running towards one another, she picks me up and said don't leave me again. And I was thinking we will always be good friends.

Yet this would not be the end of me running away to find new things... have you ever run away and not know where you were at... don't do it is not a good thing to do. Do you hear what I am saying to you?

We came home and I go a bath, Sammie was doing things like math. Some days it just funs to play inside and not get into things I should not get into. Looking out the window reminds me of being in the pet shop. Hoping for a family... I think why do I do this a runaway, yet I can help it, I am a puppy I do the thing I do not understand. Do you get it? This- all this changed the day I go a home with Sammie and her mom and daddy. Why would I do anything to change that? Do you know?

Some days it so-o nice and fun to play in the house, and then go out to the pond and go swimming. I love to go swimming with Sammie and her friends. Do you remember them? Name one now if you can.

After playing outside all day it is nice for Sammie and me, to go upstairs, and sleep in her pink bed and rest our weary heads.

Do you see me sleeping?

Do you see her room?

Do you see her bed?

Can you name something in the room?

Chapter: 12

'Road Trip'

Some days Sammie and her mom and dad would take me along with them, to ride in their red car. Not always far yet this time it was.

So, we could go and see new places that we have not seen before.

We would travel to so many places. I enjoy riding in the car and putting my head out of the window. I am sitting on Sammie's lap. Sometimes I just like to lie in the back and take a nap. Sammie's family went on a road trip, what I now know as a vacation. Some of the places that I would find to be interesting would be... 'Let us see, there are some sites that I find the most remarkable. Do you know what that word means?

We were in the car going down a Pennsylvania highway. The roads had many, with many twists and turns; and many rolling hills going up and down.

Look at all the trees and bushes, with red flowers; we could see the many leaves blowing in the breeze.

The small towns of Pennsylvania had lots of things to see like coalmines, horse and buggies, and curing railways, and tracks way up in the sky. But before I knew it, Sammie said that we were in the state of Virginia. Do you know where both of these places are? ...I do now.

Chapter: 13

'On the Road, Again'

We were driving along and had to stop. For the motives of Sammie's dad said that we need gasoline for are 1957 Chevy car, we all so stop at a hotel, do you know what these places are? I do! We slowly pulled into the station a man name Jerrod walked out the door, and came up to our car and said. 'What can I do for ya?' What is he going to do? Say it out loud!

Sammie's dad said, 'Fill it up!' what does that mean? I know do you? As I said on her lap, I could see the gas go up the glass of the pump, and then go down into the hose into the back fin of is car. Do you know why its back there? I was not sure, but I get it now. This was fascinating to me; do you know what that word means? If not ask now.

After spending the night at the hotel and here everyone snoring, and the gas was all read there in the car we go on the Virginia highway. We wanted to see more sites, this one place had lots of water all around and sand on the ground. Do you get why?

Do you know what this place is yet?

It's a beach!

Rainbow color big ball being pasted Sammie in a swimsuit, she looks cute. I see more kids not then ever; I don't know if this is a good thing or not. What do you say? This was new to me. Also, what was different about Virginia, is that you could be in the country seeing cows, horses, and deer.

After all that- and move through some stats... do you some of the stats? This was something that was all new to me at the time too. Is it new for you! I can name them all.

Alabama, Alaska, Arizona,
Arkansas, California, Colorado,
Connecticut, Delaware, Florida,
Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois,
Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky,
Louisiana, Maine, Maryland,
Massachusetts, Michigan,
Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri,
Montana, Nebraska, Nevada,
New Hampshire, New Jersey,
New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North
Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island South Carolina,
South Dakota, Tennessee,
Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington,
West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Now, where we are coming into the state of Tennessee before I knew it, we were in a big city with many cars and shopping malls. A place with long halls, and what I would call stalls. Do you get what I am saying? If not then ask now.

Chapter: 14

'Misty Mountains'

We could see- The Smoky Mountains, can you? There are very pretty, don't you see them, if you do then say so now. Could appear to be high and low, that was new to me is it to you?

The sky and the ground looked foggy and all hazy, do you see what I see? Sammie and I were sitting in the back of the car with the window open, and the air blowing through her hair. We were going up hills, and into the many valleys. I would have to say that I really-really liked the county ways of life. How about you? But then again, all good things come to an end. Time to go home to be with all our old friends that you know. Do you remember them all?

On our way home...

Mom- Are you enjoying your vacation?

Sammie- Yes, but soon... like I will be going back to school. What is Ellie here going to do without me?

Ellie- I look up at her face, I didn't get that look she had do- you? Like what is going to happen, why is she going? Where am I going? As well as what is happening to me. Do you know?

Sammie- we are on our way back- there are only a few more days in- which we have all day to play, I said to Ellie that look all said at me for I think she was getting it.

Ellie- I got yah!

Do you 'GOT' me?

Chapter: 15

'Sparking my Mind'

Sammie first day back to school, do you know why she is going here, I do now... but at the time I did not. This was such a said day for me, as I sat outside, I saw her getting on her number 19 bus. Do you see the number? Do you see what color it is... can you say the color of the bus now?

I could see her standing there, get on the bus... now the bus is pulling away going down the driveway, and I could see her waving buy. And I was saying back in my doggie house.

My house is blue do you see it?

No? You well!

One day I got tired of laying around for she was not with me, and that happens. So, I left! Do you get why I did? I left my safe yard.

Why?

I was not going to wait up for Sammie to return. Do you get that? I was bored... what to do. Do you have any ideas of what I could do for fun? In the sun- I want to run, and play, don't you? I thought I know what I going to do... I am going to try, and find new things, that I have not seen before, I like to do that as you know. By doing this I left my home behind. Is this going to be a fun time? Do you know yet?

This one time I decided to run around on the ground, two unwind with her tell swaying behind. I wanted to go and find new things that would spark the mind.

To play for the day, what do you say? Do you like to play? Would you stay? For the day? What do you say? I wanted to leave her home behind for a fun time, can you think of things I can find? On the run, in the noon sun. Do you know what noon is?

Ellie is a spirited puppy that likes to do things that Sammie thinks is risky. Sammie does not know it but do you see me running through the fields of many colors.

Chapter: 16

'Doggy Prattling'

Swimming, is something I love to do, how about you? On a burning hot day, it was too warm to play inside, summer has passed, yet it still tired out, do you get that, I do not. Sammie and all her friends are going swimming and taking a dive off the side. Look at me doing the same, do you see me? The water is overhead; everyone is splashing what more can be said. Falling leaves, I can see there all around me now, and I don't get why do you? I haven't got a clue?

The colorful leaves are blowing in the wind; the leaves are swirling and twirling. All of them falling off the trees and come down. The different colors will most likely fall on to the ground.

Sammie and her girlfriend's plans on saving all the leaves that they have found, lying around, going to town, I see all the sounds, and the old place from before, do you see them?

Sammie- Withdrawal from mom and dad this can be sad, but school is not that bad. You get to ride on a bus and learn new things this can be a rush.

'I hope when Sammie gets home, she does not get mad at me. What caused me to leave the yard in the first place? Do you know?

I saw a beautiful butterfly! Do you see it?

I really did not think a thing like this could fly to like a bird. This unique little creature rushed by me I had to follow it... do you get why?

Before I knew it- I was lost in the woods, and I wanted to cry. Would you cry if you were lost and did not see your friends and family?

This was frightening to me. Would it be to you?

I was never- ever away from home without Sammie or her mommy or daddy next to me. Do you go places without your mom and dad or someone like Sammie? I knew I needed to get back home, how do I get there... do you know the way?

Plus, I was getting hungry, do you feel that way too? But how do I find my way back? Every tree looked the same to me. Would it to you; there were no colors to speak of... do you get why? I do now... not then.

I was running through all the tall grasses; all the twigs and sticks are breaking underneath me. Don't you see this?

This was so scary to me!

Run- run- running, through the woods, getting all muddy, and covered with it; I just wanted to be home with my buddy named Sammie. It was getting dark. I knew this could get really ugly. Do you understand why?

Can you tell me?

Where should I go now?

What do you say?

Do you have a plan for me? Right do some of your thoughts and see what you come up with!

Sammie got home from school when she got off the bus; she was surprised to see me not be at my doggy house. She rushed into the home, and told her mom that she was going to look for me?

Sammie- Where do I go?

Where oh where can, she be, I need to get my puppy back to me! Don't you see it? This is what I get for not remembering to have her on her chain. So-o I ask how's felt, is it?

Chapter: 17

'Echoing Breeze'

She is searching for the town and all around; however, I was nowhere to be found. I was getting so late at night, Sammie decided to look for me in the white and black bark forests with a big green lantern. Pont to the light shining. Do you see me yet?

I could hear my name!

Can you hear my name being called out?

Why don't you call out too!

Chapter: 18

‘Ricochet’

Ellie!

Ellie!

Ellie!

Ellie!

I can hear her calling my name and also you! It is echoing to me; do you know what that means? If not then ask!

Are you trying to find me too?

Would you?

Can you?

I hope you would!

Chapter: 19

‘Resonance’

Hearing her voice made me so happy... can you hear it?

What her voice sound like to you? Can you tell me that?

What color are Sammie's eyes? Do you remember my eye color?

What colors am I?

What colors do you see on Sammie?

Can you find her hair ribbon?

Can you find me too?

What color is the grass?

What color is the sky?

All this- made me so content, joyful, and oh so glad. Do you get why? Do yah?

It made me go back to the day when I was a smaller puppy, but not seeing her yet made me so said, unhappy, and miserable. Do you know what that word means?

I hope you and she find me soon!

Will you?

Chapter: 20

‘Rebound’

Do you think you will? Right down what you think.

Finally!

There she was... she was running towards me...

As I was running towards her. Do you see us doing that?

Then...

At that time...

At that moment...

At that point...

She picked me up and said. Do not ever leave me again. Why would I want too, I thought... what do you think?

I was thinking...

I wouldn't never- ever again.

As I thought to myself, I said

Don't you worry, I will never- ever- never- ever- ever leave you again! As well as I will always be your best friend.

Ellie- I do not think I will ever get that board again... what do you say?

This is a good end to my story for now... what do you say? Is that okay? But maybe you can join me again? So-o can and will tell you more about me, Sammie and her friends' journeys.

Goodbye- for now friends, until we meet again!
